137	It varies from year to year. I must say I really never know what it is, although I am probably told. Normally at any time I want to buy something I ask the finance officer exactly how much money I have left. I now have a spread sheet which details everything I have bought, exactly how much money I have and what 'form' e.g. scholastic points, the money is in. Alot of my money is raised by myself and kept in school funds rather than the budget, I prefer this because unlike a budget that has to be spent by the end of the financial year, money in school funds can roll on and on. Page 2, Q7. How has your budget changed in recent years?

1	The proposed introduction of Accelerated Reader in September 2012 has been the main reason for the increase in the budget request.	May 18, 2012 7:15 AM
2	I am very lucky that my school's finances are really well managed. The library has a sufficient budget and has kept in line with the increased price of resources, however, I am branching out into eBooks soon and am not sure if the current budget will be sufficient for demand.	May 18, 2012 7:07 AM
3	I went to speak to the Head and petitioned for an increase in library budget for online resources. Because of this I recieved an extra £ 1,500.	May 18, 2012 6:28 AM
4	The library has been resurrected from almost extinction. It was prectically an unused resource until approximately 2 years ago when I decided to try to promote it. My main job is cover supervisor and I took it upon myself to improve it and utilise it when I had a spare moment. We have since refurbished it, doubled its capacity and stopped it being used as a classroom. It has been a fabulous project but unfortunately in the process I feel that my good natured was taken advantage of. So to explain the increase in budget, they are saving on actually paying a librarian (saving thousands of pounds) so could easily afford for the budget to be increased a few hundred pounds.	May 18, 2012 6:28 AM
5	I have no historical financial information as only been in place 1 year, but seems to be shrinking.	May 18, 2012 6:21 AM
6	It has remained unchanged for over 5 years	May 18, 2012 6:21 AM
7	I am new in post. The budget in 2011 -2012 was £5K which include everything - newspapers, Eclipse membership etc. However this financial year 2012-2013 I have been allocated £10K.	May 18, 2012 2:26 AM
8	During the previous 12 months I withdrew from various subscriptions so we asked for less budget than had been required for previous years. This year we have received a generous increase in recognition of last year's successes and to enable specific projects to be undertaken by the LRC in the next 12 months. We definitely feel supported and that our contribution within the school and to literacy is valued by the school.	May 18, 2012 1:57 AM
9	New school. We only have year 7 & 8 students at present.	May 17, 2012 10:17 AM
10	This library is now staffed 2 days a week, rather than 5.	May 17, 2012 4:22 AM
11	Annual budget up until 2010 was £7,000. Change of line manager @ SMT level, no interest in reading etc, emphasis completely on I.T. and provision of computers. This past year it has been impossible to purchase new stock, maintain standards etc. The obvious knock on effect will be on reader satisfaction, depth, breadth and variety of material and of course literacy standards. Borrowing figures will suffer as quality of stock, - content and physical declines. The SMT member is immune to these facts !! The HeadTeacher holds the same views. What is especially unfortunate about this scenario is that our library has been a role model for other secondary schools in our authority and neighbouring authorities	May 17, 2012 3:56 AM
12	Same for 5 years (when I took over)	May 17, 2012 3:10 AM
13	the budget has been reduced along with cuts throughout the school	May 17, 2012 1:35 AM

15	Library is supported mostly by donations. No specific budget in recent years	May 17, 2012 1:00 AM
16	Our school was rebuilt so the purchasing of new books was put on hold. However, our Library needs new books for key stage two, which I am about to order.	May 17, 2012 12:23 AM
17	My budget went down by 40% this year	May 16, 2012 4:55 AM
18	This year a sudden injection of funds after many years on a shoe string.	May 16, 2012 4:20 AM
19	The budget increased significantly this year as this is the first year that the school has been an academy.	May 16, 2012 2:50 AM
20	Last year I was able to get additional funding to have the library painted, have shelves adjusted, have a projector installed, get a new networked computer for the issue desk.	May 16, 2012 1:43 AM
21	Not likely to change at the moment	May 16, 2012 12:31 AM
22	No set budget due to cuts. We have to try and obtain books at no cost by fundraising and good will.	May 15, 2012 8:12 AM
23	This year's budget has been reduced by 25%	May 15, 2012 2:36 AM
24	In 2007 it was £1000. This has been whittled down over time. Last year it was £250 due to an 'error' when the cost of the junior librarian computer programme costs were included in the library budget. When this came to light (though too late to change it) the headteacher agreed that this was a mistake that would not happen again and that the previous year's budget would be restored.	May 14, 2012 3:12 PM
25	I had a set up budget of £30000. This then dropped to £18 000 for 2 years, £15 000 for the last 2 years	May 14, 2012 8:43 AM
26	Cannot tell you for 3 years ago as unaware what budget was	May 14, 2012 7:48 AM
27	Budget has shrunk in recent years. Partly this was due to the need for financial restraint and partly because the use of computers throughout the school is reducing use of Non-fiction books. The climate has also been affected by the rise of the Network Managers who do not see that Librarians have any role in the selection/ use/ or teaching of digital resources.	May 14, 2012 7:28 AM
28	Budget was cut dramatically when school changed to Academy status	May 14, 2012 6:50 AM
29	I have been the LRCManager for the past school year. Last year's budget was 10,000 and this year it is 7,000	May 14, 2012 6:46 AM
30	N/A	May 14, 2012 5:47 AM
31	Budget gradually being decreased year on year	May 14, 2012 4:46 AM
32	We have to bid for additional funding even for basic stock.	May 14, 2012 4:30 AM
33	Budget had stayed stable for 12 years, no increase or decrease, but 10% reduction this last year.	May 14, 2012 3:22 AM
34	6 years ago it was £5,000.00. It went down to £2,500.00 and is now gradually creeping up again.	May 14, 2012 2:30 AM

Page 2, Q7. How has your budget changed in recent years?

35	Budget reduction driven by Librarian rather than by management. The library is very well stocked so we are now effectively operating a one in, one out policy. This, coupled with reductions in expenditure for items such as DVD's, audio books, multi-volume reference works that have moved online has meant that we no longer needed quite as big a budget as we previously had.	May 14, 2012 2:18 AM
36	I'm not sure what my budget will be for this year, as we've recently become an academy.	May 14, 2012 2:11 AM
37	The budget increased due to the opening of a library in the sixth form building.	May 14, 2012 1:59 AM
38	There used to be a bidding process this no longer applies and the budget is now set/frozen. It nowhere matches the spending needed although for furniture it is often supplemented with 'Friends of school' funding, Furniture/H&S funding and fundraised monies. Donations also supplement book stock.	May 14, 2012 1:27 AM
39	The library budget has increased since the service was transferred from the Council's Education Service to the ALEO's library service. This change coincided with the librarian posts being split between two school services. Each librarian is now in two schools across the week, so each school only has a librarian for part of the week.	May 14, 2012 1:19 AM
40	Sorry - just to clarify 3 years ago I had the most, last year it dropped and this year it has dropped even more	May 14, 2012 1:17 AM
41	However, talking to other librarians locally I know this is quite good. There is lots of additional funding available for things like author events, technology and special projects.	May 14, 2012 1:07 AM
42	All departments had a budget cut to 79% of the agreed budget after it had been decided last year. This year not set yet!	May 14, 2012 12:06 AM
43	It used to be £3,800 and I used to struggle. 5 years ago it went to £4000, then 4 years ago £4125, where it has stuck. This is very good, as most departments have seen a slight cut in the last two years, but not the library. Am finding that as I buy hardly any non-fiction now the budget is a fair one. If I get into ebooks I will be struggling again though.	May 13, 2012 11:54 PM
44	As a librarian I have been able to increase budget from 2000 by valid arguments. Still a long way to go.	May 13, 2012 12:12 PM
45	Can't state an exact amount as we are a new school and so far we have been allowed all expenditure requested	May 13, 2012 11:47 AM
46	Current financial situation	May 12, 2012 5:45 PM
47	This question is not very well phrased with the result that it's ambiguous. Do you mean less/more this year than it was last year/three years ago, or do you mean it was less/more last year/three years ago than today? I'm not sure how you'll analyse responses unless people qualify them. In my case it's more now than it was last year and three years ago, so I've answered this to say that last year it was less and three years ago it was less. But you see how I could equally have ticked more depending on how I interpret the question?	May 11, 2012 9:06 AM

48	Lucky enough to have a one-off £10,000 cash injection in 2010 to raise standard of library.	May 11, 2012 8:26 AM
49	I AM THE NEW SCHOOL LIBRARY AT THIS SCHOOL BUT HAVE BEEN INFORMED BY THE FINANCE DPT THAT THE LIBRARY BUDGET WAS ONCE NEAR £6,000. I HAVE RECIENTLY PLACED A BID FOR MORE MONEY TOTALING £3,500	May 11, 2012 7:06 AM
50	Head vvery supportive but money tight.	May 11, 2012 5:24 AM
51	We have just become an academy so hoping for more money!	May 11, 2012 5:21 AM
52	I have not yet been given a budget but it has been indicated that it will be less than last year	May 11, 2012 4:35 AM
53	Library budget depends on other curriculum demands. Large percentage of budget used for School Library Service which we find invaluable for resources and advice.	May 10, 2012 9:43 AM
54	Some more stock was bought due to water damage and a consequent insurance claim. However there has been no official budget for the academic year 2011/12. As there is no longer someone dedicatedly incharge of the library it is being completely neglected as the staff who used to run it are now employed elsewhere in the school full time	May 10, 2012 8:00 AM
55	As the price of books and magazines goes up, would like th budget to go up too. The budget covers repairs to chairs, printer paper... so doesn't go that far.	May 10, 2012 5:31 AM
56	Requests for resources or equipment in excess of budget are usually considered favourably.	May 10, 2012 3:31 AM
57	The Careers budget is now added in although this doesn't include the cost of advisors. I'm the LRC and Information Advice and Guidance manager for Options, Careers and Universities.	May 10, 2012 3:30 AM
58	Considerably more money has been put into the library in the last two years in an effort to upgrade stock.	May 9, 2012 1:51 PM
59	library not considered as useful a resource as it used to be. Library visits no longer timetabled in for the children. There is a library club outside of teaching hours, and a book swap. Computers taking over as research base.	May 9, 2012 1:16 PM
60	In 8 years the budget has gone from £3,500 to £750. Last year I was allocated £500 but argued that it just could not be done and I had already spent more than that in the first month! I eventually received £800 but have had to be very creative about where and on what the money is spent. I'm holding it together but it is a struggle.	May 9, 2012 7:15 AM
61	This seems a little ambiguous - last year less than now or less than before? Last year the same Three years ago less than now but then responsibilities/ budget spread has increased over time.	May 9, 2012 6:17 AM
62	We are trying to build up the school's own stock of books. As the library SLA will become too expensive for us to buy back in future years.	May 9, 2012 6:16 AM
63	This is the maintenance budget. I also bid for curriculum development funding to support new/changed/expanding courses.	May 9, 2012 6:16 AM

64	The staffing came down from 1 F/T Library Manager and 1 P/T Assistant with a budget of £6,000 to one F/T Supervisor - not a library specialist (ex-teacher) with a budget reduced to about £4000.	May 9, 2012 4:38 AM
65	Despite repeated attempts, I have had no money from the school budget. Our only money source has been £750 from the parent's association.	May 9, 2012 4:28 AM
66	I used to have a specified budget of £10,000 for all library subs, furniture, hardware and resources. Changed when school sold.	May 9, 2012 3:46 AM
67	I anticipate less in September (our new budget will run Sept-Sept now that we are an academy)	May 9, 2012 3:42 AM
68	Due to reduction in school budget, amount the school is able to identify for the school library has reduced.	May 9, 2012 3:41 AM
69	My budget was cut by 80% in 2011	May 9, 2012 3:11 AM
70	The budget has increased since we became an Academy	May 9, 2012 3:09 AM
71	I have two budgets one for boarding, newspapers magazines etc and one for tutorial - reading & reference books, both have been slashed from £3000 each to £1700 for boarding and £600 for tutorial	May 9, 2012 3:09 AM
72	Budget was cut by over a half after librarian was made redundant	May 9, 2012 3:08 AM
73	Budget has increased by a total of £60.00 from 2009 which was also an increase of £60 from the previous year's budget..	May 9, 2012 3:03 AM
74	Budget has not increased due to recession but it is fixed at a reasonable sum.	May 9, 2012 2:59 AM
75	Schools are trying to make cutbacks (even private schools), so the library is often seen as a soft target. We need to fight to prove our importance now more than ever. Once libraries are gone, we'll never get them back.	May 9, 2012 2:53 AM
76	The budget was static for years, then increased when we introduced IB alongside A Levels.	May 9, 2012 2:50 AM
77	No increase for 4 years, strong possibility of cut, some of budget now allocated to non-Library purchases.	May 9, 2012 2:47 AM
78	As we are a unique school and community library we do have the benefit of additional public library resources.	May 9, 2012 2:44 AM
79	Don't know previous years as only been here two years.	May 9, 2012 2:29 AM
80	The library is currently in a process of regeneration as it has been somewhat neglected over the last few years! The school was in financial difficulties so removed the resources and budget for the library. There was no-one to officially run it and the stock became outdated. Space was also taken from it to make more ICT provision. This is now being addressed in the light of new OfSTED framework so we should see some changes for the better over coming years.	May 9, 2012 1:59 AM

83	Fluctuates according to needs	May 8, 2012 12:20 PM
84	Although the school library budget has been cut over the last couple of years, I do feel money would be available if the library was in need for extra monies to purchase damaged furnitue etc.	May 8, 2012 11:34 AM
85	budget has reduced as funding for books reduced in the school library services	May 8, 2012 7:35 AM
86	I have not been in the role long, so am not too sure whether it has changed in last 3 years.	May 8, 2012 7:25 AM
87	We are asked to submit a budget bid each year, We did not receive the full amount asked for this year, but were not given any reason why. It may be simply that we did not quite spend our allocated amount last year.	May 8, 2012 6:18 AM
88	Used to be £5000	May 8, 2012 5:56 AM
89	we cannot afford to keep replacing books as we would like, or to take out subscriptions to periodicals	May 8, 2012 5:24 AM
90	Several budgets around the school were cut about three years ago. We previously had £18,000 per year.	May 8, 2012 3:10 AM
91	THERE HAVE BEEN CUTBACKS ACROSS ALL EDUCATION SERVICES	May 8, 2012 3:05 AM
92	We had a large spend on new resources when we opened a new library four years ago. The budget was set at a reasonable level for the following years, and remained the same until last year. All departments had a cut of 30% last year. The budget this year has been set at the same level as previous years (no 30% reduction) In reality I'm having to make my budget go further because of the advent of expensive e-resources (set up costs etc) and inflation.	May 8, 2012 3:00 AM
93	we are a newly merged school so budgets are very different from previous years as they now relate to the whole school and not just part of it.	May 8, 2012 2:49 AM
94	Has gone down due to less money in whole school budget.	May 8, 2012 2:08 AM
95	Still a generous budget though	May 8, 2012 2:07 AM
96	Our school library was full of antequated books, but last year we threw bookis out and re stocked with books that the children wanted. We are in an SLA with North Tyneside library, but they only lend us books for maximum a term.	May 8, 2012 1:51 AM
97	We have recently invested in new books and hope to buy into online junior librarian when we have refurbished the space.	May 8, 2012 1:50 AM
98	It has increased slightly but is good compared to cuts made to other depts. However, this may change next year as the acadmy has a large budget defecit	May 8, 2012 1:49 AM

101	My budget reduced drastically last year from about £8000 3 years ago to just over £2000 this last year excluding minimum subscription to School Library Service.	May 8, 2012 12:43 AM
102	Although the budget is set at £3000 - The haed has allowed me to purchase an additional1000 titles for the Accelerated Reader scheme	May 8, 2012 12:42 AM
103	Not sure how the budget will fare this financial year as we have a whole school deficit.	May 8, 2012 12:40 AM
104	This is because of increased prices for Library Service for Education etc	May 7, 2012 11:51 PM
105	The library budget was reduced by 75% last year as were many other of our school budgets.	May 7, 2012 9:25 AM
106	We recently reinvested in the SLS	May 7, 2012 2:28 AM
107	More during present year because we needed to replenish old stock for new.	May 6, 2012 11:10 PM
108	We have just invested in a new library	May 6, 2012 4:38 AM
109	We restock every few years and use rewards from book fairs etc as well as capitation.	May 4, 2012 8:00 AM
110	Three years ago we had a deficit budget therefore spending was very tight. Our budget is still limited being a very small school.	May 4, 2012 6:43 AM
111	Budget has only reduced a little over the years HOWEVER I have to pay for more things out of it like ELS and the LMS support package, so it is no longer just for books.	May 4, 2012 6:42 AM
112	We have just revampt our school library over the last school year.	May 4, 2012 6:37 AM
113	The budget covers print, audio-visual and electronic resources, promotion (eg author visit) and training. It covers stationery but not printer cartridges and paper.	May 4, 2012 4:44 AM
114	There was no school library three years ago.	May 4, 2012 4:24 AM
115	The above amount is our annual subscription to the School Library Service only and does not cover the purchase of new books.	May 4, 2012 3:39 AM
116	Budget was cut by 40% in 2011 but half was reinstated in 2012	May 4, 2012 3:36 AM
117	Remained static but cuts proposed and successfully opposed.	May 4, 2012 3:27 AM
118	Feel luckily that my budget has not been reduced considering the current financial climate.	May 4, 2012 2:22 AM
119	a large financial investment was put into the library in 2009/10 enabling the library to be staffed and open on 4 afternoons a week, computerised, new stock and furniture purchased.... and although the budget has been cut since the library has maintained a strong focus and not been cut as severely as other areas.	May 4, 2012 1:44 AM

120	Since I started this occupation I have lost all autonomy over what goes on in the Library it has become a classroom, although the budget has not changed the method of spending has. I now am unable to visit shops or warehouses, I am unable to buy books on spec (introduction of aggro system) and I cannot guarantee that a visiting rep will get the order as I have to get a second quote. Of course this has reduced the number of reps that come so I am reduced to searching the internet for orders, which is followed up by someone in finance following my trail through the internet so that they can make the order. I cannot buy books as an emergency the whole process takes weeks from my making the order to the order being placed. needless to say any offers are done with before the order is made. This is a cost saving action introduced by the new Finance officer who is an auditor and does not count in the cost of two - three people (repeated in the council offices) covering the same work. I found last year that I spent only half my budget-no books nothing to be busy with. I have not had my budget allocation this year, and I am wondering how long I will actually have a job.	May 4, 2012 1:38 AM
121	Have not been issued budget for this year.	May 4, 2012 1:01 AM
122	The budget was £14,000 5 years ago but our pupil number has reduced by about 500 so the budget has largely decreased in line with that.	May 4, 2012 12:29 AM
123	Cuts due to overall budget cuts across the school	May 3, 2012 11:37 PM
124	The ICC (Information and Communication Centre) has been generously funded in our school as it is a valued resource that everyone benefits from.	May 3, 2012 1:21 PM
125	My budget has remained the same for 6 years, but I now have to pay for all IT software support which I didn't when I first started. In the last year the school has introduced networked photocopying so this gets allocated to departmental budgets much more accurately than previously, thereby reducing the budget further.	May 3, 2012 10:14 AM
126	The library was well stocked a few years ago and because of budget constraints very little has been spent over the past few years.	May 3, 2012 9:51 AM
127	The budget has decreased considerably both from school library service and from school.	May 3, 2012 6:51 AM
128	Library is considered of less importance for financing.	May 3, 2012 6:46 AM
129	I have been here for the last four school years and only in 2011/2012 did the library have its own budget. As I received redundancy notice this year, the library hasn't received any budget for the next financial year.	May 3, 2012 6:20 AM
130	The budget has decreased, however due to consultation it will be going up again.	May 3, 2012 6:12 AM
131	However with the lack of space to put the books due to the increase in the use for 6th form study areas we couldn't spend more of a budget at the moment unfortunately	May 3, 2012 5:37 AM
132	Substantial reduction of budget in 2011/12 and 2012/13. Current budget is lowest since I started working here in 1999.	May 3, 2012 5:33 AM
133	My budget has gone from £500 last year to £150 this year ridiculous	May 3, 2012 5:05 AM
134	We are fortunate enough to be a school that is well funded and managed	May 3, 2012 5:00 AM and which values the library. Our funding will be cut next year when the full impact of the cuts is felt.

135	Budget cuts are across the whole school - but the library is low priority.	May 3, 2012 4:53 AM
136	Does not include costs for in-service training	May 3, 2012 4:27 AM
137	we have not bought back to our LA library, instead we have returned the books and purchased a wide range ourselves, although we spent £5000 we also received money during the year from bookclubs, often several thousand pounds worth	May 3, 2012 3:33 AM
138	The budget has steadily decreased as the number of pupils has been increasing.	May 3, 2012 3:27 AM
139	not known	May 3, 2012 2:25 AM
140	No change since I started 12 years ago.	May 3, 2012 1:37 AM
141	A large amount of money was put into the library 4 years ago when it was established, with thousands of pounds spent on new books and furnishings for the new library (once a computer suite!). The following year more money was put into the library, in subsequent years the library has been given enough money to buy in new, popular books and to borrow topic books from our local SLS.	May 3, 2012 1:33 AM
142	Having to cover the costs of maintenance for my library management and security systems out of my budget means I actually have less than £2,000 to spend on resources, stationery and miscellaneous extras. Arguments against this have so far fallen on deaf ears.	May 3, 2012 1:01 AM
143	My school is very generous when it comes to the library budget	May 3, 2012 12:23 AM
144	We have had a push on purchasing library books this year to re stock our library.	May 3, 2012 12:05 AM
145	I only started in September 2011, so can't actually vouch for three years ago. It is definitely more than the previous postholder had last year though, so it's safe to assume it's more than it was three years ago!	May 2, 2012 10:56 AM
146	Defence spending review meant we had to reduce budget and opening hours	May 2, 2012 9:36 AM
147	Unsure - deputy head controls the budget	May 2, 2012 7:14 AM
148	Although the whole school (3-18) uses the library, the budget allocation is for secondary only.	May 2, 2012 6:48 AM
149	The PTA have been fund raising to support refurbishing our library and providing new reading material.	May 2, 2012 6:35 AM
150	We tend to use the School Library Service more, mainly because of the introduction of the IPC. We don't want to build up collections on topics that won't be used very often eg: airports, circuses and chocolate. As for fiction, more money is spent on books for the classrooms as the SLS picture books and young fiction can be exchanged regularly, which is very useful to give more choice of reading to the children.	May 2, 2012 6:34 AM

151	Over the last 3 years we have changed from and 11-14 to 11-16 with two new builds (2010 & 2012) plus a change to Academy status in November 2011. We have been ticking over on minimum provision during this period of time.	May 2, 2012 6:13 AM
152	We haven't had the 2012-13 budget yet but it is likely to be less than in previous years.	May 2, 2012 5:53 AM
153	We aim to spend £10 per child per year on Library books and a further £10 per year on other books to support classroom libraries	May 2, 2012 5:51 AM
154	-7% cut this year	May 2, 2012 5:40 AM
155	School did not have a proper library so we spent about £10K setting one up last year and will be adding to the book stock over the next few years with the support of our parents. We see the library as a really important resource and are investing a lot of time and money in it.	May 2, 2012 5:35 AM
156	The library didn't have a budget or a librarian before I started in 2004. Until then it was run by volunteer parents and a member of the English Dept supervised from a distance. My budget has remained static but when I need extra funds for literary initiatives (book award shadowing, lit quizzes etc) or for library furniture, the school PTA always turns up trumps. In return, I do my bit for them, of course.	May 2, 2012 5:18 AM
157	We opened three years ago with only year 7 and a budget of £10000. The budget has increased each year as we have grown.	May 2, 2012 5:11 AM
158	Budget totally dependent upon Head's view of a Library! Current Head very supportive; previous Head believed in electronic resources eventually replacing Library.	May 2, 2012 4:37 AM
159	We have stayed with the SLS but very much reduced our package to the bear minimum. Staffing reduced and now we have less stock than in previous years.	May 2, 2012 4:14 AM
160	The budget is for books and specific resources only. All IT equipment, fabric of the library and our subscription for Schools Library Service comes from another budget.	May 2, 2012 4:10 AM
161	The budget has stayed fairly constant in my 12 years at the college (now academy) at around £10,000. However, in the past this has normally been supplemented by the chance to bid for resources for eg new courses, college specialism etc. Not sure what will happen now we are an academy. The vast proportion of the library budget goes on our school library service subscription which we have maintained every year.	May 2, 2012 3:54 AM
162	We are trying to maintain the same level SLA but are afraid with a falling budget for resources we may reduce our commitment further. We have also reduced already the number of topics we get per term.	May 2, 2012 3:52 AM
163	No specific budget, all falls under Literacy budget for whole school.	May 2, 2012 3:42 AM
164	We spent a lot of money last year developing the library and buying in new books. The budget for the library is included within the Literacy budget and also extra staffing hours for TA.	May 2, 2012 3:39 AM
165	Consumables are continuing to increase in price.	May 2, 2012 3:18 AM

166	We have re-stocked our library over the last 4 years, although find that it is used less and less as online resources become more accessible and useful.	May 2, 2012 2:58 AM
167	The Librayr budget was raised from £1000 per annum to £3500 per annum and stayed at that level for 3 years. During that time our school was rebuilt and there was extra finance available to the new school which has since stopped. The budget was reduced by £1000 per annum and has remained at this level.	May 2, 2012 2:58 AM
168	I no longer bid for money therefore I don't really have an amount to work to, I submit an order and cross fingers that it is accepted. Fortunately the man in charge of the money usually pays out.	May 2, 2012 2:38 AM
169	The budget does not include School library service or the software licence for the library management system and the ebook library.	May 2, 2012 2:30 AM
170	budget is extra to membership to PSLS	May 2, 2012 2:26 AM
171	Invested a lot of money last year in refurbishing our library (shelving and decor) - several thousand pounds. Funded by PTA.	May 2, 2012 2:19 AM
172	Expecting further reductions this year.	May 2, 2012 2:16 AM
173	The budget amount is accessed by librarian but that does not include SLS yearly agreement	May 2, 2012 1:51 AM
174	I am concerned about the level of funding for the library.	May 2, 2012 1:32 AM
175	I used to buy all the books for the library, but now the school subscribes to Library Services for Education which is more expensive but the books can be changed and replaced as often as I wish plus there are many more services included in the pacage. I also have a small budget for books that can not be supplied by Library Services. Plus a budget for resources.	May 2, 2012 1:28 AM
176	Removed the budget for Book Week	May 2, 2012 1:27 AM
177	Library had very small budget up until 3 years ago when it went up significantly to get library back on its feet. It is now going back to lower level but some funding comes to the library from different sources - governors, foundation governors, school fundraising.	May 2, 2012 1:17 AM
178	Our Library is struggling to stay open with our budget less this year and will be reduced to nothing next year.	May 2, 2012 1:12 AM
179	Although it is more, costs have increased for staffing, utilities and general consumable goods.	May 2, 2012 1:06 AM
180	Budget has been increased to accomodate the raised profile of reading within the OFSTED framework.	May 2, 2012 1:05 AM
181	budget for Library reduced more than other deparments	May 2, 2012 12:44 AM
182	Had to find 5% savings on PFI contract with Gov. Dept. Opening Hours reduced and lost one Library Assistant who has not been replaced.	May 2, 2012 12:38 AM
183	Nursery Schools now have to work within the new Early Years Single Funding Formula	May 2, 2012 12:26 AM

184	Work closely with Finance Manager and always show "Value for money" and can usually persuade allocation to be generous	May 2, 2012 12:22 AM
185	I have survived on a very low budget for many many years now.	May 2, 2012 12:09 AM
186	We spend as we need, budgets are moved around areas of the curriculum.	May 1, 2012 11:57 PM
187	Library was set up from scratch 5 years ago, with £14000 being spent on stock and budgets for 2 years of £6000. For the following 2 years it was £2000 and since then has been £1500. The initial outlay was affordable because of surplus funds in the school budget, which have now been spent.	May 1, 2012 3:44 PM
188	We cannot afford to specifically budget for library and rely on parental donations, scholastic book fairs, PTFA fundraising	May 1, 2012 2:12 PM
189	The library budget was reduced for the first time in 20 years.	May 1, 2012 1:26 PM
190	We have had a big drive on developing Reading	May 1, 2012 12:34 PM
191	Additional funds made available if requested.	May 1, 2012 11:45 AM
192	No library budget allocation from school - only from Department. Budget has more than halved over the past 3 years. Previous VP and Principal keen on getting pupils into and using the library and would have granted requests for money for specific books, eg film adaptation, novels in the news etc. Currently experiencing a change of leadership and no money is forthcoming. As a full time teacher trying to run a library - without remuneration - it's very difficult to organise other forms of fundraising.	May 1, 2012 10:21 AM
193	No as this hasn't be a priority in our school	May 1, 2012 10:11 AM
194	Budget has stayed the same for many years, which means year-on-year, it is actually going down when taking other costs and factors into account.	May 1, 2012 9:48 AM
195	We purchase books as and when needed when finance allows. This is dependent on topics being studied by year groups in our 'World Class' curriculum	May 1, 2012 9:11 AM
196	I had to campaign very hard to make Head and Governors understand that books no longer cost £4.00 each, but were heading up to £6.99 and even more for non-fiction, so our funds were very stretched. The Campaign was successful, and as our Headteacher, and staff value our Library, My budget was increased so we could still maintain our stock and services. This money came as we had an increase in total budget when we converted to Academy status, so there is no guarantee that this will continue in future years, though I will fight hard to keep things going.	May 1, 2012 7:49 AM
197	I set up the library from scratch 5 years ago. Initial budget of 10K. Five of this spent on total refurb and the other half on books. We still have some old books but have a policy of anything over 10 years (non-fiction) is usually recycled elsewhere. Budget now substantially reduce and usually 500 pounds a year.	May 1, 2012 7:42 AM
198	the budget depends on the number of students, over the years. the numbers are dropping.	May 1, 2012 7:39 AM
199	I find my budget perfectly adequate for the library's needs but aside from the budget the school pays a subscription to the Leicestershire Library Services	May 1, 2012 7:26 AM for Education - about £6,000?

200	The Library budget has been cut in the last year by £2,500 due to the current economic situation.	May 1, 2012 7:09 AM
201	The money which was previously spent on subscribing to the Schools Library Service is now part of the library budget.	May 1, 2012 6:56 AM
202	Just a about £600 less.	May 1, 2012 6:44 AM
203	Last year, we no longer subscribed to LSE. Our actual library budget reduced each year during the last three years.	May 1, 2012 6:43 AM
204	I am very lucky in that I am well supported financially by Headteacher and Governors.	May 1, 2012 6:32 AM
205	Not really enough to support all subjects and to cover printing costs.	May 1, 2012 6:20 AM
206	It has only gone down by £100.00. It has been just under £4,000.00 for several years.	May 1, 2012 6:14 AM
207	Money is still very tight in school, hard to keep track of changes as had a short financial year in move from April to Sept for financial year.	May 1, 2012 6:13 AM
208	This year we had a substantial donation from the PTA.	May 1, 2012 5:45 AM
209	Overall funding and the decision to end the School Library Van visiting schools for children to choose and borrow books for the school for the year.	May 1, 2012 5:38 AM
210	After fighting for an initial increase in budget on my appointment 5 years ago, the budget has been reduced on an annual basis ever since.	May 1, 2012 5:28 AM
211	My budget has halved	May 1, 2012 5:26 AM
212	Not known	May 1, 2012 4:56 AM
213	It has been the same since 1999, but will probably go down this year.	May 1, 2012 4:54 AM
214	I have always had a very good budget but for the last couple of years have not actually been 'given' a budget despite having to fill in budget requirements. When I have queried this I always get told 'base it on last year' which to me is unacceptable. I don't like to complain too much in case they suddenly reduce my budget.	May 1, 2012 4:23 AM
215	Unable to state as yet	May 1, 2012 3:54 AM
216	Head is supportive and more money could be made available if required.	May 1, 2012 3:45 AM
217	The actual Library budget is £3,000 p.a. plus approx. £4,000 for Library Services for Schools = £7,000 total.	May 1, 2012 3:42 AM
218	Three years ago I was full-time Librarian with a budget of £3000 & responsibility for both Senior & Prep Schools Libraries. Last year the budget was cut to £2300. This year my hours have been reduced to 10/week in the Senior School. A Teaching Assistant does 3 hours/week in the Prep School.	May 1, 2012 3:42 AM
219	Budget covers library resource needs. Senior management and IT dept. very supportive.	May 1, 2012 3:34 AM

220	Budget under £2,000 to cover all book purchases; library stationery etc and anything I want to do! I have given up my eclipse helpdesk subscription as I could not afford to maintain it. I have been given an additional £1,000 this year as an off one to improve my fiction stock in particular.	May 1, 2012 2:45 AM
221	We know that the overall budget for the school is going to be decreasing significantly over the next 3 years and therefore accept that our budget will also be significantly less.	May 1, 2012 2:42 AM
222	This year unable to fund any additional books due to change in formula to fund SEN pupils resulting in a £18000 shortfall	May 1, 2012 2:37 AM
223	to clarify this question, my budget is more than it was three years ago	May 1, 2012 2:30 AM
224	I have gone from £1,000 to nothing.	May 1, 2012 2:25 AM
225	In effect this is a reduction and i have had to put my case forward to keep my LSE subscription	May 1, 2012 2:07 AM
226	I have a healthy budget but have not yet had 2012 figures adn we have a new Finnace Manager so not sure what new figure will be.	May 1, 2012 2:05 AM
227	In 2006, the library budget was £2,000. This was halved the following year and has remained at £1,000 until last year, when it was halved again. This had to cover stationery, promotional materials and printing costs as well as stock. This year, no specific budget has been allocated (see above)	May 1, 2012 1:56 AM
228	I'm not sure I've answered this correctly. My budget has been frozen for this financial year, but is more than it was 3 years ago.	May 1, 2012 1:50 AM
229	They try to give us an small increase every year and we can make a special request for development funding. In the last five years we've had an upgrade from 10 computers to 18 and new carpeting and furniture.	May 1, 2012 1:44 AM
230	It is very difficult for me to buy books at present and there is almost no money for paid online resources so I have to take advantage of offers rather than being systematic in stock building.	May 1, 2012 1:31 AM
231	We struggle to keep good what we have but would like to expand the library. We could spend at least 4 times as much as we do every year.	May 1, 2012 1:29 AM
232	Substantially less. Was 21,000 when I started 10 years ago!	May 1, 2012 1:20 AM
233	I'm new in post so cannot give you a retrospective on previous years.	May 1, 2012 1:15 AM
234	Only been in post for this year. No Librarian at all last academic year and apparently no budget for anything except unavoidable expenses like Help Desk one above etc.	May 1, 2012 1:15 AM
235	Had to prove a need for increased income, keep quite detailed records of expenditure so can prove the budget is being spent effectively. Need to be seen to provide the best value for money possible.	May 1, 2012 1:04 AM
236	Budget has more than halved	May 1, 2012 12:56 AM
237	I had to pitch for an increase in my LRC budget with our SLT and Finance Director	May 1, 2012 12:42 AM

Page 2, Q7. How has your budget changed in recent years?

238	We have been developing all 3 libraries, and our budget has reflected this. We are in the fortunate position that the libraries are recognised as central, and so our budget is allocated accordingly.	May 1, 2012 12:33 AM
239	Budget has dropped from £15,000 to £7,000 since 2008	May 1, 2012 12:00 AM
240	i dont know how much the budget is	Apr 30, 2012 10:59 AM
241	schools have generally cut their school library spending	Apr 30, 2012 10:45 AM
242	The actual amount hasn't changed at all, but allowing for inflation. I guess it's depreciated.	Apr 30, 2012 8:45 AM
243	I struggle with the budget I have & therefore seek additional help. I apply for various funding, borrow resources from SLSS & public libraries & use other budgets to fund events (I pitch my ideas - give evidence as to what part of the curriculum it supports & then the head decides which budget the money should come from)	Apr 30, 2012 8:44 AM
244	All departments had their budgets cut last year to help keep teachers. We get allocated on a £ per pupil basis.	Apr 30, 2012 8:17 AM
245	Amount stayed the same, obviously worth a lot less these days!	Apr 30, 2012 7:54 AM
246	The school roll has halved in the last 4 years and my budget has halved from £3000 in 2008 to £1500 in 2012	Apr 30, 2012 6:56 AM
247	It has gone down from £5,749 last year to £3,138 this year.	Apr 30, 2012 6:44 AM
248	I've been here 7 years, during which time the actual budget has slightly reduced, despite the fact that we're buying into more expensive electronic / internet resources, and the cost of paper resources has risen - so in real terms, our budget has probably reduced by 25% or more.	Apr 30, 2012 6:28 AM
249	Reduced from nearly £6000 to £4000 last year	Apr 30, 2012 6:25 AM
250	Was £1800 in 1994 but has been £2200 for years.	Apr 30, 2012 6:23 AM
251	Our budget looks large but it is split across two Libraries, and it's shrinking year on year. We also get help from the PTA which we bid for and use the money for author visits etc.	Apr 30, 2012 6:20 AM
252	The school has a deficit and has needed to make cuts. Three years ago the budget was £3,500. I forfeited the £600 fee for my library management package's 'helpdesk' with the intention that this sum could be used for books. However, I did not see this money!	Apr 30, 2012 6:18 AM
253	Budget has been dramatically reduced, it is now less than a 10th of just over 12 months ago. No longer subscribe to LMS support and query ability to subscribe to Library Services for Schools. I am told it will be even less in the next academic year. A major concern.	Apr 30, 2012 6:10 AM
254	Unchanged since 2004 but some money occasionally accessed from ICT/KS4 budget	Apr 30, 2012 6:08 AM
255	We were allowed an extra £1000 to our library budget last year to help to renew our rather dated fiction stock, sadly the budget this year has returned to normal.	Apr 30, 2012 6:06 AM

Page 2, Q7. How has your budget changed in recent years?

256	Over the past four years the budget has been slashed year on year. I have fought this every time and this year they agreed to give me the same as last year. I have to raise funds with appeals to local businesses and running a Christmas fair for the school where the library keeps the profits. It is really difficult to run the library with the funding given.	Apr 30, 2012 6:06 AM
257	Hasn't moved in 8 years. Software costs taking up bigger and bigger slice.	Apr 30, 2012 6:04 AM
258	Used to be more but has decreased since the schools federated	Apr 30, 2012 6:02 AM
259	Not surprising as the school has had to make some staff redundant due to financial constraints.	Apr 30, 2012 5:27 AM
260	The Library always has been well funded.	Apr 30, 2012 5:21 AM
261	There was a 10% cut in the budget for all departments including the library, in 2010-11.	Apr 30, 2012 5:21 AM
262	We are very lucky to have a very generous budget. However, we support numerous projects throughout the school and therefore are always short at the end of the year!	Apr 30, 2012 4:58 AM
263	The budget is realistic for a library of this size.	Apr 30, 2012 4:56 AM
264	The school has been facing a large number of cuts in budget over the last 3 years. My head teacher is fair and has always cut my book budget by the same percentages as every other department. Last year he even managed to maintain the budget at same level. However this financial year we are facing the largest cut in the Authority Education budget ever so it is unlikely that the library will escape ...	Apr 30, 2012 4:43 AM
265	Budget has leapt since new head took control.	Apr 30, 2012 4:20 AM
266	then past few years have seen a great reduction in the library budget from £7-800 to about £150. Although this year I have been advised that more will be available, but no exact figures as yet.	Apr 30, 2012 4:18 AM
267	I first started at my school seven years ago. The budget remained roughly the same until we became an academy in 2009. My budget is now one sixth of the amount I was given in 2004/05.	Apr 30, 2012 4:11 AM
268	Feel quite happy with the reduction in budget as we have good stock and are getting full	Apr 30, 2012 4:01 AM
269	Budget reduced slightly this year due to reduced funding throughout school.	Apr 30, 2012 4:01 AM
270	Could be some changes (poss. lower) as Academy status becomes more established.	Apr 30, 2012 3:59 AM
271	Has not changed in the last 15 years	Apr 30, 2012 3:50 AM
272	I have only just had a budget increase. Last year my budget was £4500 but this year it was decreased to £2500. I have just found out that next year it will be £10000 and I have another £3500 to spend this term.	Apr 30, 2012 3:48 AM
273	After two years of very limited funds, this year we have been allocated £2000, which is more than what we have had in the previous 10 years.	Apr 30, 2012 3:32 AM

274	falling roll means reduced income but budget still generous	Apr 30, 2012 3:30 AM
275	I consider i am fortunate in these days of library closures to have a library to work in and a budget, it can however be difficult to run a department alone be effective, innovotive and creative as we need or would like to be. Our budget has been reduced hugely in the last few years in line with libraries across the UK and the supposed relevance of their use, however budgets for technology have risen steeply in other areas of the school.	Apr 30, 2012 3:25 AM
276	Out of the budget I have to pay for photocopying, stationery, printing costs, help desk support, books and author visits if any money left!	Apr 30, 2012 3:24 AM
277	Only been here one year - so not totally sure!	Apr 30, 2012 3:23 AM
278	Extra money to cover increase software costs for online catalogue	Apr 30, 2012 3:22 AM
279	30% reduction last year (2011/12) due to big spending cuts across all departments. Previously, it had increased year on year.	Apr 30, 2012 3:20 AM
280	I do not manage the budget. We have a Learning Resources Manager who knows very little about school libraries. His support is very poor	Apr 30, 2012 3:18 AM
281	I don't know whether it will change for this year yet but I am expecting it to remain the same.	Apr 30, 2012 3:10 AM
282	The Library budget has steadily decreased in recent years. The budget allocation has fluctuated between £1100 - £1500 over the last decade. When I left my post at a state secondary school in Glasgow in 1983, the budget for the coming year was set at £1500 student role of 900 When I went on maternity leave in 1987, the school library buget in my Edinburgh state secondary school was £1000 student role of 1000 When I took up my present post in 1996 the budget for the school libratry was £1100 school role of 550 In the thirty years I have been a professional, school librarian my per capita budget has never exceeded £1500. The cost of a teenage paperback fiction book has doubled in that time ie 100% increase therefore half the number of fiction books is added annually at a time when there has never been greater need nor a greater number of outstanding authors topromote reading to young people. The cost of subscribing to a daily newspaper accounts for 17% of the per capita budget. The cost of annual on-line subscriptions (which didn't exist thirty or even, 15 years ago) accounts for 20% of the budget. The subscription cost for running a commercial library mangement system would account for 50% of the Library budget - a cost that this school library cannot afford to bare any longer.	Apr 30, 2012 2:50 AM
283	Not had this year's budget through - assuming it is the same	Apr 30, 2012 2:47 AM
284	Extra budget from Development Bid to bid for	Apr 30, 2012 2:47 AM
285	My budget has been slashed to such a point that I can only afford newspapers on offer. By budget this year would not have even covered the papaer bill from last year. Ten years ago I was getting about £7000.00 this year I have less than £1000.00	Apr 30, 2012 2:43 AM
286	My current budget is £2000 less than in previous years - I received £8000 per year for many years.	Apr 30, 2012 2:31 AM
287	Has reduced from around £8000 down to £1000 then back up to around £2500	Apr 30, 2012 2:27 AM

Page 2, Q7. How has your budget changed in recent years?

288	The 3 year's ago figure is misleading as a lot of was for setting up the library after refurbishment.	Apr 30, 2012 2:20 AM
289	As above is difficult to say, as the majority of my money is in school funds, and that is sort of my budget. So although the budget is going down the actual amount I have to spend has raised due to some great fundraising activities especially the Scholastic Book Fair which I highly recommend.	Apr 30, 2012 2:17 AM
290	budget has been cut gradually over the last five years	Apr 30, 2012 2:13 AM
291	Marginal increase	Apr 30, 2012 2:12 AM
292	We have just over 10,000 which now needs to be increased to keep up with ebooks etc	Apr 30, 2012 2:11 AM
293	The way the school finances are carried out changed about 3 years ago. Subscription to School Library Services is now paid centrally and no longer included in the Library budget and so there was a substantial reduction in the budget. Also I have requested that subscription to Microlibrarian Support is paid centrally as this uses up an increasing amount of the library budget. Also the school has experienced a reduction in pupil numbers over the last 5 years which has resulted in decreasing budgets across the whole school.	Apr 30, 2012 2:07 AM
294	The library was closed before I was employed and the budget has been increased each year I have been in post.	Apr 30, 2012 2:00 AM
295	Our budget has decreased, but we are expected to cover more resources costs. I have had to cancel several magazine subs. I worked out recently the proportion of money spent on books versus display materials around the school (as we are responsible for those too) and I effectively have £500 for actual books.	Apr 30, 2012 1:59 AM
296	We are quite well funded, so an effective drop in budget has not been a problem yet. Also we spend considerably less on books than we did (less non-fiction) but more on online databases, which can cost quite a lot.	Apr 30, 2012 1:55 AM
297	The budget has been decreased by less than £500 in the last 6 years.	Apr 30, 2012 1:47 AM
298	Dependent on pupil numbers	Apr 30, 2012 1:46 AM
299	Budgets haven't changed significantly over the last few years.	Apr 30, 2012 1:46 AM
300	We have had £6,000 for the last ten years - so in effect a constant cut, last year this was reduced further to £4,000 and we anticipate much the same this year - will find out end May. This is a significant poor amount for a school this size.	Apr 30, 2012 1:44 AM
301	The budget has remained more or less the same for a number of years, whereas the cost of services such as maintenance of the security system, library management system etc have risen, leaving less money for books, magazines etc.	Apr 30, 2012 1:41 AM
302	Although there has been two major, expensive and positive refurbishments of the library space and resources and there is an upward increase in improving book stock.	Apr 30, 2012 1:41 AM
303	Don't know, have only been in post 1 1/2 years and don't have access to records	Apr 30, 2012 1:40 AM

Page 2, Q7. How has your budget changed in recent years?

304	Very supportive Head and VPs ensured that budget remained the same even tho school's own budget has suffered!	Apr 30, 2012 1:40 AM
305	Library budget was cut by 90%	Apr 30, 2012 1:40 AM
306	I feel my budget is sufficient and quite generous	Apr 30, 2012 1:35 AM
307	we have opened new libraries	Apr 30, 2012 1:34 AM
308	Capitation is about a third of what it was 3, 4, 5 years ago.	Apr 30, 2012 1:34 AM
309	LAST YEAR OUR BUDGET WAS CUT BY ALMOST 60%	Apr 30, 2012 1:30 AM
310	Every year I have to cut more things - online subscriptions are expensive, and are bought at the expense of printed materials (especially non-fiction for lower years).	Apr 30, 2012 1:29 AM
311	We had a large start up fund. We have less money this year, but I am never really given a budget...so I just fill out order forms...and they say yes or no... I would much rather have more control, or know the budget so I could plan ahead.	Apr 30, 2012 1:28 AM
312	Budget had been £4,500 for years, but dropped to £2,000 last year for 2011/12 . The budget for this year 2012/13, has not yet been approved but I have been advised that it will not be less. It may even be a little bit more	Apr 30, 2012 1:27 AM
313	Until recently the Library budget was 'eaten up' by money required to run a big colour printer, but this has since been replaced by a smaller more efficient black and white one, leaving far more funding for resources.	Apr 30, 2012 1:26 AM
314	Waiting to see what will happen for the second year of academy status	Apr 30, 2012 1:24 AM
315	Have lost full SLS subscription - now have to pay from LRC budget for part subscription - came from separate account before. Have to pay for IT equipment, tables - that used to come from different budgets.	Apr 30, 2012 1:24 AM
316	Not happy with less budget but understand why.	Apr 30, 2012 1:17 AM
317	The whole school has been cut in their budgets so this isnt specific to the library. Worried about this year though!!!	Apr 30, 2012 1:16 AM
318	Recent change to school library service resulted in reduction of school librarians from 11 to 7 - now all work across 2 schools. Budget was set by individual head teachers up until this year - now it is controlled by the library service	Apr 30, 2012 1:16 AM
319	School is currently moving from departments to faculties and money was set aside to ease this transition - this is a one-off move so hopefully the Library budget will not decrease again this year	Apr 30, 2012 1:15 AM
320	Budget reduced by £2,000 last year to contribute towards continued full subscription to local School Library Service	Apr 30, 2012 1:14 AM
321	Extra funding put into the library when we became an Academy last year. Previously budget was cut with no consultation with me year on year. No one is asking me for budgetary requirements for the next financial year...which for us is Sept - Aug. I do not have strategic management responsibilities.	Apr 30, 2012 1:10 AM

322	Now less than 1/6 of my 2009 budget.	Apr 30, 2012 1:07 AM
323	There are unpredictable funds available most years for which I can submit bids - makes forward planning a bit difficult but the grants can be substantial if application is convincing.	Apr 30, 2012 1:07 AM
324	Not sure, only been in post for 12 months	Apr 30, 2012 1:07 AM
325	When i started 16 years ago my budget was £2,000	Apr 30, 2012 1:06 AM
326	It's becoming impossible to maintain anything like a decent standard at this level of (non)- funding	Apr 30, 2012 1:05 AM
327	It's a fight to keep it	Apr 30, 2012 1:05 AM
328	I was surprised that the budget stayed more or less the same this year, as we have lost a huge amount in the total school budget. I hope this reflects the value placed on the LRC my SLT.	Apr 30, 2012 1:04 AM
329	As school budgets are hit harder & harder each year even the most supportive headteachers must pass on the cuts. For the last few years schools seem to have been an easy target for passibg on cuts & also devolving areas with huge cost implications.	Apr 30, 2012 12:58 AM
330	Any increase in capitation required is done via faculty bids on an annual basis - this is the same for all faculties in the school	Apr 30, 2012 12:56 AM
331	Due to the fact that we were two schools with that merged into an Academy more money was available this year, however I have been told that the budget will be less next year.	Apr 30, 2012 12:54 AM
332	The library is now seen as an inportant selling point for us as an independent school, due to the cutbacks in the state sector. Parents do like to see a library.	Apr 30, 2012 12:50 AM
333	Occasionally extra funding provided but only because of tight housekeeping within school. I expect this extra funding to become less frequent	Apr 30, 2012 12:45 AM
334	stayed the same for the last 10 years	Apr 30, 2012 12:44 AM
335	It's been the same for the past +-8 years	Apr 30, 2012 12:41 AM
336	set figure that departments are top sliced from their capitation. Then a further bid for Curriculum development funding to release projects like Accelerated reading/school library service funding/ it developments	Apr 30, 2012 12:40 AM
337	General decrease - this year there may be none at all!	Apr 30, 2012 12:22 AM
338	School started to offer IB diploma and had to improve library - course stopped after 2years and funding decreased.	Apr 30, 2012 12:20 AM
339	New budget not yet allocated for 2012/2013 financial year	Apr 30, 2012 12:14 AM
340	The increase by a small amount the last three years.	Apr 30, 2012 12:06 AM
341	Library budget actually comes from donations via Non uniform day, and Year 11 leavers donating to the school library. I have only been in post since	Apr 29, 2012 12:00 PM

Page 2, Q7. How has your budget changed in recent years?

	September 2011 so not sure of budget 3 yrs ago
342	I have had no extra money to cover printers, toner and paper	Apr 29, 2012 11:26 AM
343	Steady decrease in all budgets across the school	Apr 29, 2012 10:58 AM
344	Approx £1700. Had been £1848 for the last 10 - 12 years with it being about £2200 before that.	Apr 29, 2012 10:39 AM
345	Stayed much the same, which means a cut in real terms	Apr 29, 2012 10:25 AM
346	School roll has gone up but budget is unchanged	Apr 29, 2012 10:23 AM
347	My budget has remained the same for the last 5 years.	Apr 29, 2012 10:22 AM
348	The budget decreased from 6000 to 3000 a few years ago. Last year it increased again to 5000. I will also hopefully have another 9000 for a much needed refurbishment. I had to fight for the refurbishment money.	Apr 29, 2012 10:01 AM
349	My budget was reduced to zero halfway through the year two years ago, but was put back to 'normal' last financial year	Apr 29, 2012 9:41 AM
350	I started at this school in September 2009 and my predecessor was not a particular advocate for the library and her budget had remained the same the entire decade that she was there. My official budget has gone up £100 a year after pushing from me but I have managed to secure funding from various other sources each year I have been here. I also ensure that anything that can be taken from other general school budgets do not come from my budget. So our library management system subscription is paid for by IT, any new bookcases etc come from Furniture and suchlike.	Apr 29, 2012 9:33 AM
351	all departments have been cut/the same. increase in ict hardware	Apr 29, 2012 8:33 AM
352	Don't know, new in post.	Apr 29, 2012 7:24 AM
353	The budget is supplemented by PTA contributions and Governor's gifts. Funds have been more forthcoming since I have been employed on a part time basis to manage the library.	Apr 29, 2012 5:38 AM
354	small increase each year	Apr 29, 2012 2:37 AM
355	It hasn't changed since library opened in 1992!	Apr 29, 2012 1:59 AM
356	all budgets have been cut across the school	Apr 28, 2012 2:09 PM
357	My budget has gradually been reduced in the time I have been in post except for last year when I argued strongly against further reduction but I know budgets all round the school are being squeezed and every department is having to take cost cutting steps.	Apr 28, 2012 10:48 AM
358	Had large influx of money due to flood damage and could buy in lots of new resources, funky seating/furniture, magazine subscriptions, get in authors, support initiatives, etc. Think seeing the difference a larger budget made to the service had an impact so my budget was dramatically increased.	Apr 28, 2012 10:46 AM
359	If I didn't fund-raise, I wouldn't be able to even keep up with new fiction books. Non-fiction books, particularly those relevant to or supporting the curriculum are very expensive and I have to ask the PTA for help to update	Apr 28, 2012 10:16 AM one section at a time. Making a fuss about the budget (£1,500 this year - we had £700 the previous year) might draw unwelcome attention to the Library - our Head turned the Library at his last school into a computer room and 'archived' the books - so I grin, bear it and am as resourceful as I can be!

360	Our numbers have dropped and my budget will drop in the 2012-13 year proportionate to the numbers	Apr 28, 2012 9:48 AM
361	This was because a small amount (£300 or so) was added on from curriculum budget when we started timetabled Year 7 skills lessons based in the LRC (it covers copying of the resources for those lessons) I do find it a good budget and my SLS subs do not have to come from this. I would like more to be able to develop an ebook collection.	Apr 28, 2012 9:06 AM
362	School has financial problems like many others. Changing to academy status has brought a little extra money, but that is likely to be temporary.	Apr 28, 2012 8:44 AM
363	Amount seems good but with not so much with so many students Used to get more per pupil	Apr 28, 2012 8:38 AM
364	It is definately becoming harder to obtain additional funds and for tha last three years I have had to fight to retainour financial imput into Coventry Schools Library Service.	Apr 28, 2012 8:27 AM
365	varies depending if successful in bidding for projects.	Apr 28, 2012 8:18 AM
366	Has always been generous so I have no cause for complaint. If there is the need to include some large expenditure that was not budgeted for I am able to make a case - this very rarely happens though. I know how very lucky I am.	Apr 28, 2012 8:14 AM
367	I have to bid for the budget from the PTA each year, I usually ask for £1k for books and £1k to cover Library Week when I get authors/illustrators in to the school. The PTA set up the library but they review the funding every year.	Apr 28, 2012 6:33 AM
368	The budget this year is the same for library capitation but I used to ask for Aim Higher money to fund Author visits which has now been cut.	Apr 28, 2012 4:48 AM
369	Between 2008 - jan 2012 there was no functioning school library.	Apr 28, 2012 4:33 AM
370	Budget was reduced by 10% last year, and budget for 2012/13 also reduced by 10%	Apr 28, 2012 3:35 AM
371	Resource prices increase, but overall budget decreased.	Apr 27, 2012 11:54 PM
372	Books grow on trees, don't they? Seems I've done too good a job of making the library look fresh and full of new stuff.	Apr 27, 2012 2:48 PM
373	Slight fall in pupil numbers has resulted in corresponding reduction in budget. Will be requesting an increased budget for the coming year.	Apr 27, 2012 2:45 PM
374	I had an a very good budget prior to last year when it was cut by 2/3. I have to provide printing and LMS maintenance costs out of my budget and I am expected to provide a certain amount of e-resources so there is little left for books, a lot less than the recommended amounts. I have had to change my usual suppliers and try to find cheaper suppliers, I have also had to cut back on author events etc, but I'm expected to provide the same services as I did before.	Apr 27, 2012 2:32 PM

375	Steadily decreased to make school wide savings - as I understand it each department has been expected to make significant savings.	Apr 27, 2012 11:53 AM
376	Though budget has been cut we have received extra funding from our PTA to keep our computer hardware up to date.	Apr 27, 2012 11:13 AM
377	Still waiting for budget allocationa nd	Apr 27, 2012 9:51 AM
378	It is now more than it was 3 years ago.	Apr 27, 2012 9:44 AM
379	Before the current academic year my budget did not include electronic resources, software, LMS support contract etc - these came from a seperate ICT budget. I now have a slightly bigger budget but have to pay for all the ICT items therefore in real terms my budget is greatly reduced.	Apr 27, 2012 9:30 AM
380	My budget has shrunk by well over 60% a massive hit	Apr 27, 2012 8:54 AM
381	We have a "normal" budget that covers all running costs and I bid for that each year - have always got what I asked for so far - around £7500. Then on top, I have a Library Development Budget that has been running since 2008. This was to cover the first 5 years of library development as we have upgraded both libraries. This was £12,000 each year, uprated by inflation.	Apr 27, 2012 8:45 AM
382	The budget was £4000 (woefully insufficient) which was halved the day I mounted my campaign to have it increased to £12,000. This might anticipate your next questions but the £2000 is spent as follows: Library catalogue licence (the school refuses to pay for it centrally), printing (toner and paper), and national newspapers.	Apr 27, 2012 8:22 AM
383	Library has been open 2 years	Apr 27, 2012 8:19 AM
384	This year I received an increase of £1,000, but the previous 4 years it had been static at £12,000	Apr 27, 2012 8:04 AM
385	I have only been librarian fro just over a year starting as a temp to cover the librarian (on 4hrs per week) on long-term sick leave. She left & I took over in Sept on 5hrs per week. I have just been informed that my hours are to triple (to 15p.wk) as the library is now beng seen as something that can be used more & more. I do not know what the budget etc was 3yrs ago.	Apr 27, 2012 8:04 AM
386	We have also lost membership to the School Library Service supplied by the County as that is too expensive for what they offer (according to my head!!) .	Apr 27, 2012 7:43 AM
387	Only had the SLS top package because Burser put it through without full consultation - it included access to EBSCO & History Centre	Apr 27, 2012 7:28 AM
388	Was 32,000 GBP	Apr 27, 2012 7:13 AM
389	My budget now is less than half what it was 5 years agon in terms of £ - and therefore is considerably less in real terms.	Apr 27, 2012 7:03 AM
390	The bulk (considerably more than 3k) of my budget is spent on a comprehensive subscription to the Schools Library Service. By the time I have bought periodical subscriptions (very few!) and consumables (printing, stationary) there is very little left for book purchases (as opposed to the loans through SLS)	Apr 27, 2012 6:47 AM
391	I am very fortunate to be well-funded on the same basis as an Academic	Apr 27, 2012 6:47 AM department. I have not been asked to make cuts or had a budget bid challenged in my 3 years at the school.

392	This budget is for all three libraries. It has remained fairly static for several years.	Apr 27, 2012 6:46 AM
393	Funding of the library is seen as unimportant by many members of staff and our budget falls whilst that of ICT grows.	Apr 27, 2012 6:40 AM

2	We have a brand new space and the plan is to be an at the heart of literacy across the curriculum. I am planning a series of workshops to incorporate literacy into all subject areas through research projects, activities and homework tasks.	May 18, 2012 6:30 AM
3	Due to the lack of time there is not as many activities and skills promoted in the library as there could be - mainly due to there not being a dedicated librarian.	May 18, 2012 6:30 AM
4	We see year 7 classes every fortnight throughout the year for a library lesson usually with a book or author focus to promote reading for pleasure and for some basic research skills. We organise book quizzes, author visits and WBD activity through the school. We offer games at lunchtime to support the pastoral programme. We run several book groups. We support students with low literacy with book choices and one to one reading.	May 18, 2012 2:09 AM
5	All year 7s are inducted into the library when they first come to the school. They are introduced to the way the school works re. borrowing and returning books, expected behaviour and an introduction to the dewey system. Reading is promoted by competitions, posters, visiting guests and keeping teaching staff up to date on what is available in the library. I teach year 7 about the dewey system regularly. There are also lessons encouraging Y 7 to read for pleasure. Please note that we are in the process of introducing Accelerated Reading to the school, so things are in a state of flux at the moment. 7	Up until 2005 we had an excellent Library Skills programme for Yrs7 - 9. This has been dropped from the curriculum in favour of extra I.T. lessons. Given the information overload age that we live in I consider this to be a very poor decision on the part of the SMT. When our school was established in 1996 the ethos behind the Library was one of flexible learning and self sufficient study, in the past 9 years this has been side lined in favour of classroom based teaching, consequently the Library is no longer used to its full potential and not for the purpose it was designed for. We are an example of how big an impact a change of SMT can have on the most important facility in a school that supports the education and literacy of pupils.	May 17, 2012 4:01 AM pupils sent up to do research and use the computers. The English dept are particularly unorganised and rarely visit as whole classes, despite me organising a timetable for visits. They are happy to encourage pupils to borrow books though. I've got 12 computers, but at any one time there will be at least two getting rebuilt and out of action. Most information literacy has been done on the spot. I'm hoping to make more inroads in promoting information literacy next year.

24	I attempt induction with varying levels of tke up and bang my head against the brick wall attempting to run Reading group and Information Literacy/library skills although I do have small pockets of support. I buy into the TV book club promotion which is popular and great in supplimenting stock for English but also run other 'in house' promotions I think will appeal to students.	May 14, 2012 1:30 AM
25	Since I am now in my school library for only part of the week (currently two days a week), I am unable to continue delivering the classes I did when I was in school full-time. As a result, I have had to focus on the areas the school believes is most important. For now, we have decided to focus on reader promotion and reading for enjoyment.	May 14, 2012 1:23 AM
26	I also run the Accelerated Reader programme for all y7 & y8 students. Year 7 spend 3x 30 min sessions per week in here on AR whilst y8 have 1 hour per week during alternate half-terms.	May 14, 2012 1:08 AM
27	I used to teach library skills and information literacy but a new management team has told me they no longer require me to do these activities. They only want me to carry out the "administration" side of the role. I still do the reading promotion and reading groups because of my passion for the role but I am not expected to it. 34	I feel the Library is underused, and teaching staff do not realise the skills I & my colleague have. Things have improved since I started working here 5 years ago, so library use, if not budget will increase.	May 10, 2012 5:33 AM

42	Used to run a year course for Year 7 students (after Induction) incorporating Information literacy and library skills, but no longer timetabled as felt that time was needed for other lessons, so had to stop. There is also a need for ICT development in the library and around the whole school, as difficult having access to the Internet and online resources, so not easy teaching research skills. It is also difficult getting staff support of the library. Most staff do not utilize the library - say no time to do so. It is hoped that there will be some lessons allocated to 6th form for information literacy and library skills from September 2012. The library is used for some Special Needs teaching. 	projects in collaboration with the Central Library and other organisations/ events (eg Greenaway Shadowing). Once children are free readers (ie have passed a certain level on the reading scheme), they take their reading books out from the school library. This makes the library central to reading in the school. The emphasis of our school library is on encouraging children to read for pleasure, and providing books for children who may not have many books at home. Children's knowledge and interest in books has increased over the time the library has been open, with children coming in asking for new books and additions to their favourite series.

103	I see every KS3 year group over a 2 week timetable. Lower sets have a weekly lesson. In one we follow a reading scheme where the students read a book (preferably from the school library) over the two weeks and review it through various tasks and in the second lesson we all read the same book with students reading allowed, if they wish to. Higher sets just follow the reading scheme (one lesson a fortnight) and don't have the 'class reader' lesson. I also participate in the Carnegie Book Award and The Warwickshire Schools Book Award. All lessons take place in the library, these cover 30 lessons out of an available 60 lessons, over the fortnight. Leaving the remaining 30 free for various other library usage. Because we are such a small school, with no sixth form, this works really well.	May 2, 2012 6:09 AM

I would love the library to be used in a positive useful and fun to all. Senior staff do not see the library as a teaching/learning/usefull place but just somewhere P16 students can go supposedly to work but as above they just use it to socialize.	May 2, 2012 12:33 AM

206	Year 7s have an hour's reading lesson per fortnight; most of this is spent immersing themselves in a book, with a session at the end to talk about what they're reading, take part in a quiz or some other quick activity to try to make books and reading more exciting. About once a year we try to play the Reading Game with them. Information literacy and Library Skills are very much on an informal ad hoc basis. Subject classes can be booked in to research a topic. We have 14 computers and classes are usually split so they all get chance to use the books and to use the computers for their research.	Apr 30, 2012 2:41 AM
207	I see every student in Year 7 every fortnight. In these lessons I take them through a programme of library and information skills as well as leaving time for book exchange and reader development. Each half term, I see every student in Year 8 for reading and book exchange sessions. I also have around 300 research lessons taking place in the LRC spanning the curriculum.	Apr 30, 2012 2:38 AM

210	I encourage both English and other classes to come down and use the Library for reading and research. Individual students may be given permission to carry out independent research and Year 11 students who have been withdrawn from a particular subject will spend their "free" period in the library. We have three computers in the Library space with a small computer room attached, which is often booked for sixth form lessons. We have always taken part in Booked Up, The Warwickshire Book Award for year 7 & 8, Carnegie Shadowing for year 9's, World Book Day, and try to arrange author visits once a year. We run regular reading-related competitions and promote external competitions such as the BBC 500 Words. The library is always involved in the school's Open Evening/Day for Year 6 students, and the newly established Information Evening for Year 5 students. We are a pilot school for the Sorted! It's All About Me! project which offers self-help books for teenagers. We have just launched this project with a big display in the library, a smaller display just outside the library, and all the books are on display. The Library is sometimes used as a venue for large meetings, parent consultations, mock interviews for year 11's, and on alternative curriculum days when outside agencies come and talk to whole year group's throughout the course of the day. Although it is not ideal if we have to close to accommodate such activities, I like to be flexible and encourage anything which raises the profile of the library!	Apr 30, 2012 2:16 AM

232	I give library induction to year 7. This consists of one 1hour lesson in which I have to talk about the library and how to use it, including library skills. There is no time given over in the timetable for lessons in the library unless teachers want to bring their classes in to use the computers on the mezzanine - this is not for me to work with them! Other than Yr 7 there is no opportunity for refreshers in yr 10 or 12 or for new students in yr 12 from other schools. Whenever this subject, or any other for that matter, is broached everyone nods in all th eright places but nothing is ever followed through or given the go ahead. I started my distance learning degree because I was told there would be a career path forward and position of LRC manager, but now I am so disillusioned that I wish I had never started the degree and wasted my own money and time (there is no time given for me at work even though people in other areas on the same course are given study days once an fortnight to help them along.) All departments work with us, we get extra resources from Schools Library Service. We organise 2 authors events a year and invite other high schools and our feeder schools. We run lunchtimes activities, promote new authors and titles through displays and competitions. We work closely with Heads of Year to ensure all our are current and up to date and cover the topics they are studying and look for ways to run studying skills with through topics, especially Science, Humanities, Art, Hospitality and Creative Minds. We run reading clubs and shadow the Carnegie and the Worcestershire Teen Book Award. We also work with outside agencies and have guest speakers and run workshops related to Holocaust Memorial Day, International Women's Day, Black History Month, Internet Safety Day, Drugs Awareness and many more. 267	Pastoral role, as someone who staffs the library area during breaks and after school, and often sees the children in a different way from teachers. Very important part of the job. Line management of two pt-time library assistants, an archivist and a part-time gapyear student. Quite a lot of skills involved here - I have been a solo librarian elsewhere, and that is less complicated with regard to managing a team - though it brings its own huge challenges! Working with (other) Heads of Department to maintain and improve status of library and to reflect, manage and sometimes initiate change as the world of information changes.	Apr 28, 2012 8:24 AM

282	I have year 12 students timetabled for private study for all 25 periods a week in the library so there is no opportunity to get classes in other than the very small (2 students) diploma classes which are taught by a teacher. By the time they get to 6th form, students refuse to accept they have very little in the way of information skills and are not receptive to information skills training - understandably, as the exam boards give them no credit for such skills. Likewise, I have one PSHE class a year with Year 8 and trying to teach library skills out of context has proved pointless, it's very frustrating! It's also a Catch-22 situation - I haven't got a decent book stock to use with them to teach the skills, therefore they can't see any point in learning them, etc, etc. I do the Carnegie shadowing scheme and have a year 8 shadowing group in the library for two registration periods a week.	Apr 27, 2012 8:40 AM
283	The reading group is run through the English department due to timetable restrictions - it is an evening activity in a Boarding House. Induction is for third form (year 9), new entrants from other years, L6 and staff. Library skills are taught in the Junior School. There is limited information literacy work, but it is increasing. Work includes sessions with students working on extended projects in the sixth form and work on chemistry projects through several years to introduce searching skills and techniques, referencing and library use. Some team teaching of information literacy with both subject staff and the head of IT also happens.	Apr 27, 2012 8:08 AM

I run 2 book groups - one for y9-11 and one for sixth form. I have taken students to other schools and libraries to listen to authors and I have booked authors to come into schools that I have worked in.	May 18, 2012 7:38 AM

3	I feel that school libraries are so vital to promoting literacy and life skills and are an untapped resource in many schools as they are not deemed a priority.	May 18, 2012 6:30 AM
4	Although all are covered it is up to individual teachers / depts to request research skills lessons. I would prefer a whole school approach	May 18, 2012 6:23 AM
5	I feel increasingly cut off from the teachers: most will not give me their schemes of work or reading lists and they encourage students to see computers rather than books as thei first point of enquiry	May 16, 2012 4:56 AM
6	I am intending to introduce some, if not all, of the other activities listed in the not-too-distant future.	May 16, 2012 2:52 AM

13	Have been in temporary building for the last 6 years as funding for new Library failed to materialize and old library was converted into top-spec science lab with lecture facilities. Temporary housing only 7m x 7m, have room for resources (just!) but not students!	May 14, 2012 3:25 AM
14	Is it possible to differentiate between information literacy and library skills? We do inductions for years 7 and 9 (our intake years) and re-induction for the lower 6th that cover library basics; who we are, what we provide, how to use it. Students in years 7, 8 and 9 follow a programme of curriculum based projects team taught by a librarian and class teacher. These are structured to incorporate information literacy skills from basics such as using contents, index, skimming and scanning text, to website evaluation, critical evaluation of appropriate sources for the required information (i.e. online vs print), using subscription databases, note taking and organisation, plagiarism, citation and bibliography. Reader development is done via book clubs, reading challenges working in conjunction with the English department, general promotion of material and ensuring a good supply of current popular fiction appropriate to the core client group i.e. 13+ boys. 16	My role is combined with the whole school reprographics service. I have spent two years collecting evidence for my chartership status which I was accepted for in September 2011, but now a new management team has decided that the skills I have gained are no longer required.	May 14, 2012 12:34 AM
17	Last two years I have found it impossible to get teachers to continue our library skills lessons. Most teachers have turned their backs on the library. Back to the fight I used to have over 20 years ago - trying to get the teachers to use the library/librarian.	May 14, 2012 12:01 AM

22	I am finding it very difficult to engage hard worked staff in developing increased use of LRC and to get input for ideas on curriculum resouces needed.	May 9, 2012 4:42 AM
23	There is a dire need for Information literacy to be taught in the school - students' research skills are very poor.	May 9, 2012 4:37 AM
24	The majority of new reading books for the library come from donations or from the rewards from Scholastic Book Fairs	May 9, 2012 3:15 AM
25	The LRC acts as the hub of the school for learning activities. It is a valuable and valued space both by students and teaching colleagues alike.	May 9, 2012 3:13 AM
26	I have complete autonomy and am supported in everything I do.	May 9, 2012 3:05 AM
27	Please enphasize in your advocacy that we teach library and information skills as teachers need to accept this	May 9, 2012 2:30 AM
28	We also have close links with Chepstow Town Library and we attend organised workshops etc. and classes pay regular visits	May 8, 2012 12:23 PM
29	The library is open 3 days a week as I have been employed only for those days though I have been offered full time to start next September as then the school will have a full Year 7 to 13	May 8, 2012 8:15 AM
30	The library organisation takes up a lot of my time as I teach full time and also coordinate 3 other subject areas. We rely on parents to offer their time To keep the library organised and to help the children borrow books. Our small village library is under threat of closure so even the small library we can offer the children is going to be very important in the future. All the children in the school can borrow books, from the age of 4 up.	May 8, 2012 6:11 AM
31	We undertake these activities on weekly visits to our local community library as we do not have space for a dedicated library in school.	May 8, 2012 5:00 AM

32	This is an exciting time for school librarians if Heads allow their librarians to use their skills alongside IT depts rather than being replaced by them. Advocacy is more important than ever. The skills base of modern day librarians need to be promoted more effectively. We are responsible for budgets, training and IT, amongst others. It's not just about the books!	May 8, 2012 3:07 AM
33	We are a team of 3. Total hours are 42 with some overlap for team meetings	May 8, 2012 2:57 AM
34	our library was new this year and the children love the opportunity to use it at lunch time as a proper library. we are currently investigating adding newspapers/magazines and appointing a full time library assistant as the job is far too demanding for me (deputy head)	May 8, 2012 2:52 AM
35	The role of the school librarian is changing but funds can not always permit for the changes in reading habits...eg being able to buy the latest books straight away..all has to go through an order form first! Same goes for new technology eg kindles...large outlay of cost which would benefit a number of children but big costs!!! Lack of vision by teaching staff and often coming up against them for not using the LRC as much as they should!! Frustrating!	May 8, 2012 2:11 AM
36	This year we have a £700,000 new library build... to open in July...funding from academy status and parent/ teacher association...	May 8, 2012 1:41 AM
37	I work as a library assisant on my own in the library. It is a very well stocked library and much used by students in the school both in lessons, at both break times and after school.	May 8, 2012 12:59 AM
38	the timetable is now completely taken over woth accelerated reader lessons - much to my dismay.	May 8, 2012 12:44 AM
39	Our school library is an important part of our school and all our students and staff are encouraged to use it.	May 4, 2012 6:40 AM
40	We are a very busy library. ICT expertise allowed us develop a high profile which brought staff and students in. As staff and students become more expert we need to keep repositioning ourselves and focus on what isn't being done elsewhere.	May 4, 2012 4:50 AM
41	The library doubles as an ICT suite so is often in use as a classroom. The library is often unsupervised because of the combined cover supervisor/librarian role, though it is supervised at break and lunchtimes.	May 4, 2012 4:27 AM
42	LRC well used by staff and pupils alike	May 4, 2012 2:23 AM
43	new furniture is a desperate need as our bookshelves are not fit for purpose	May 4, 2012 1:51 AM
44	Since 2008 there has been a huge investment in time and money in the school library with the employment of part time librarian and assistant, which has allowed for the implementation of regular class library slots allowing pupils to borrow books, the introduction of Junior Librarian management system, author visits, world book day activities, library contributions to PPA days, introduction of a weekly book club, after school opening and an Olympic Reading Challenge running at the moment (funded by the PTA who have also helped us with finance for this and other projects). To quote the head 'our library operates as a library now and not just a room of books'!	May 4, 2012 1:45 AM

51	Everyone in the school is proud of the library. It is a welcoming space that children and teachers value.	May 3, 2012 1:39 AM
52	I feel that we 'Mangers' are rather looked down on by groups such as yourselves and whilst I acknowledge the training librarians have had, I have had 20 years experience working at my academy, fine tuning it to meet the needs of our staff and students. Literacy is overseen by the English team, I manage a centre, the students and the resources across the Information centre and the whole college.	May 3, 2012 12:50 AM
53	Part of my day is given to clerical assistance to Heads of Departments and a Deputy. Would love to spend more time in developing the literacy in the library.	May 3, 2012 12:26 AM
54	Management supports any plans I devise, but hard to prove impact in a very data driven environment.	May 2, 2012 12:51 PM
55	I wish there was more attention paid to information literacy and the role of the LRC in helping to deliver this in our college.	May 2, 2012 9:38 AM
56	I spend a lot of time doing things that I'm not sure come strictly under the heading of 'librarianship', but I'm able to cooperate closely with my teaching colleagues and make sure I'm aware of, and involved in, developments in the curriculum. Although I still call myself a librarian, I think of myself as more of an 'Information and Knowledge Manager.'	May 2, 2012 6:54 AM
57	The school has a librarian from the SLS working half a day each week.	May 2, 2012 6:35 AM
58	Not done previously with usual post holder	May 2, 2012 5:41 AM
59	School has become an academy to try and relieve financial difficulties. If I wasn't so pro-active and didn't have the 100% support of our English Dept, the library would have been a casualty. I am only salaried for 12.5 hours a week and paid on a scale 2. I work at least double those hours and have 3 academic degrees which I use for the job so the salary is inappropriate.	May 2, 2012 5:24 AM
60	I don't buy back to the Library service anymore - the budget is given directly to my English subject leader who buys in books for the library with the help of a Senior School Librarian from Camb-Ed.	May 2, 2012 4:42 AM
61	Following a recent Library Self Evaluation, we are hoping to introduce library skills programme in the near future.	May 2, 2012 4:27 AM
62	Unfortunately many schools and teaching staff do not see librarians as fellow professionals. I guess this is reflected in the limited career path of the librarian in schools and the terms and conditions reflect how little they are valued.	May 2, 2012 4:20 AM

65	In the past I have done a lot more in the way of Information Literacy and Reading Groups but having had my contract changed to term time only and lost my full time library assistant, these are some of the areas which have been affected.	May 2, 2012 3:58 AM
66	Find it hard to provide latest published popular books.	May 2, 2012 3:23 AM
67	Many changes have taken place in the library and now we have gone academy it will be interesting in how the library is used. Teachers are encouraged to use the area for teaching and the English Department regularly bring the year 7s in. More students are taking books out because of this. We hope to do this with the other 2 years time table allowing next school year.	May 2, 2012 2:42 AM
68	I have no complaints about my job other than I feel the salary could be better. The school takes on board ideas and problems that occur from time to time. Subscribing to Library Services has made my job a lot easier and manageable.	May 2, 2012 1:41 AM
69	'Traditional' library decreasing in importance because of on-line access etc	May 2, 2012 1:38 AM
70	I am paid as a library assistant, a teacher gets management points for being the official person in charge of the library, though all he does is sign off on purchase requests. The library has no status, no support and maintains its budget because no one - thankfully- cares enough to look at it.	May 2, 2012 1:27 AM
71	Library not used to its full potential by the school as a whole, however the staffing for Library (combined with Resources/Reprographics) has been heavily reduced in the past year (from 70 hours per week down to around 40 hours), which makes it difficult to provide more than basic running of the Library.	May 2, 2012 12:52 AM
72	Considering the state of School Libraries in the UK we are very fortunate in that we are a PFI contracted college supporting the UK armed services in recruiting graduate engineers after they have completed a two year A level course here and a 3 year degree course at University. However that has not saved us from having to make cuts to Academic staffing, Academic Support areas like the Learning Resource Centre and to college staffing in areas like catering etc.	May 2, 2012 12:46 AM
73	We also use Dorset Volunteer Readers and each class has a book corner.	May 1, 2012 12:36 PM
74	Libraries are essential. Too many people think that the internet is the be-all and end-all, yet many children do not have the essential skills to manage the large amounts of information available on the internet. Actual paper-based research is an essential skill that should be taught across the curriculum. Schools need to place a greater emphasis on this in their development planning. It easily links with cross-curricular skills. Without funding, however, libraries will not be able to keep up with new publications and therefore will not be able to offer teaching staff and pupils the wide range of resources that are essential for project work. Computers have their place in a library - funding for these is also essential - I've begged and borrowed and have 4 but have been told I can't have any more due to cost.	May 1, 2012 10:27 AM

75	We are in dire need of funding for a library. Is there any available?	May 1, 2012 10:11 AM
76	We have had a very supportive Head over the last 7 years. We are now having a new Head teacher, so I'm praying that the support continues and the Library continues to thrive, in the face of so much shrinkage and decimation of Library services for all.	May 1, 2012 7:52 AM
77	our librarian left and she was not replaced .i am a cover supervisor who stepped in and run the library as best as i can. had i not,we would have no library at all.	May 1, 2012 7:40 AM
78	Some are done better than others. Year 7 have weekly lessons and we cover induction, promotion, and skills with some IL although this is in development through subject staff -very early stages. Library Club runs each week approx 12 students per session and others are shadowing Carnegie. We also participate in a county book award.	May 1, 2012 7:36 AM
79	Whereas the non-fiction section of the library is under-used, reading for pleasure is thriving and there were 6,099 loans in the last academic year	May 1, 2012 7:29 AM
80	The library was run without a librarian for almost 2 years, and I am finding it hard to bring it back from there to having a central role in the school. I have a generous budget, but the students and staff are making almost no demands of the library to support the curriculum. There is a serious danger that the library will become just another room with computers, and anything else the library or librarian could offer will be ignored.	May 1, 2012 7:05 AM
81	We have a team of 22 pupil librarians who help out at break and lunch and undertake enquiry duties, replace books, issuing and discharging resources etc. We are being squeezed due to space and pupil numbers.	May 1, 2012 6:25 AM
82	Really am getting to point where I cannot do any more.	May 1, 2012 6:15 AM
83	If it weren't for the SLA I'd probably be a teaching assistant and the school would not have a library by now.	May 1, 2012 5:03 AM

91	Only employed for 25 hours a week. Doesn't even cover opening hours of school. No help so only able to do routine library assistant duties. Salary is consistent with that type of post, even though I am a Chartered Librarian.	May 1, 2012 1:19 AM
92	Role is Librarian & Homework Officer	May 1, 2012 12:58 AM
93	We know that we are very fortunate in that our libraries are valued. However, we've had to work to get to this position!	May 1, 2012 12:35 AM
94	My post as being made redundant and the library closed from September 2012	May 1, 2012 12:01 AM
95	I am not a qualified librarian, but I have had 24 years of experience working in school libraries. I would love to become ACilip, but cannot afford to be a member at the moment. I do use the brilliant SLA toolkit to train my library leaders, which is great at getting them focussed and seeing their work in the library as a real achievement.	Apr 30, 2012 8:24 AM
96	Its too much. I can't fit it all in. I need admin assistance.	Apr 30, 2012 6:47 AM
97	The LRC/library is a bright airy space with reasonably up-to-date stock. It is underused by teaching departments other than English who have regular bookings. However, it is also used throughout by 6th Form for quiet study and other small groups needing a place to work although not using the resources. Whilst the LRC is open all day, the Librarian is employed for part time hours only. I am fully qualified (also holder of BA & MA) but my position has been downgraded to a low salary under Single Status which does not help morale.	Apr 30, 2012 6:43 AM
98	Some of these activities take place in the classroom or computer room as the LRC is used by sixth form.	Apr 30, 2012 6:30 AM
99	As we are a small secondary I have many other roles and responsibilities in addition to the library e.g. VLE Coordinator & Communications Officer. I'm concerned that I have less and less time to devote to library matters.	Apr 30, 2012 6:13 AM
100	I am paid for an 18 1/2 hour week although have to work many more hours simply to keep running. None of this is paid work. To be honest for the first time in 11 years I am feeling very under appreciated.	Apr 30, 2012 6:08 AM
101	Time for separate induction is limited and shrinking, but reading activities and reading groups are increasing. Reading is a priority in our new SDP and I am involved in new initiatives. Information Literacy teaching takes place mostly in lessons and I am gradually building that up & increasing my participation outside the library itself.	Apr 30, 2012 5:22 AM
102	The library at our academy is frequently used as a classroom as our building does not have sufficient rooms. This means that it often does not function as a library and restricts the library-related teaching which could take place.	Apr 30, 2012 4:14 AM
103	Am just beginning to combine e-book resources. Some students still keen to express love of books & libraries - GREAT!	Apr 30, 2012 4:08 AM
104	In February they did try to change the LRC to an extra classroom where the Librarian would teach two or more classes at a time. they were also going to get rid of books and book cases and replace them with I pads and more technology. Then the new budget was released and the money they were going to use to change the LRC had to be used for teachers salaries. Thank	Apr 30, 2012 3:55 AM

105	One thing to bare in mind is that our work load can be high our hours short and pay indifferent but we do it because we love it.	Apr 30, 2012 3:49 AM
106	Although funds are tight, literacy is a high priority for the school management and the library is seen as a major contributor to that, which is reflected in this year's budget.	Apr 30, 2012 3:34 AM
107	I am a BA(Hons) but my position here is of Library Assistant. The library is used as a classroom	Apr 30, 2012 3:21 AM
108	All squeezed into 8 hours a week!	Apr 30, 2012 2:52 AM
109	Information Literacy and Library Skills are done as part of Research Lessons and are short and not delivered to every student.	Apr 30, 2012 2:31 AM
110	We are moving into a smaller area and the budget is to be slashed over 5 years (we are in the second year of the budget reduction).	Apr 30, 2012 2:12 AM
111	Our school has gone through alot of changes during the last few years and is now in a federation with 2 other schools. I think the library provides good value for money and is an important part of the literacy timetable providing a weekly opportunity for pupils to visit the library with a focus on reading.	Apr 30, 2012 2:10 AM
112	I do not feel that the library is supported as a library, it has 28 computers and is used as an additional IT resource, but rarely as a BOOK resource! New staff have been shown round and told how wonderful the computers are with NO mention of the books!	Apr 30, 2012 2:02 AM
113	Teaching, reading and literacy carried out by Teaching staff.	Apr 30, 2012 1:42 AM
114	advocacy of SLA and school librarians has helped improve service provided in this school library. Thank you	Apr 30, 2012 1:41 AM
115	We are lucky here because the school employs a Chartered Librarian and pays to keep the library open for most of the school day. We have up-to-date IT and the school is willing to keep on funding the renewal of the book stock. The drop in capitation reflects the reduced budget across the school so the library is not being penalised unfairly.	Apr 30, 2012 1:40 AM
116	Good support from Line Manager to promote Literacy, but NO support from the English Dept. Not considered by them as part of their Literacy Team	Apr 30, 2012 1:36 AM
117	Sixth Form take up a large amount of my time, as does maintaining discipline during non-lesson time!	Apr 30, 2012 1:34 AM
118	Very book based, 5 computers, no other technology.	Apr 30, 2012 1:28 AM
119	Password changes - staff and student displays CPD SMSC policy Intaranet, website portal - kept up to date Maanger LRC timetable Careers libraray Produce statistics ICT training for staff pupil librarian training	Apr 30, 2012 1:25 AM
120	Decisions made without being included in discussions and also not always told of decisons when should be (or told correctly) would be nice to be included sometimes. If ever asked opinion it is usually too late and not given time to think about question or situation being asked about.	Apr 30, 2012 1:24 AM

121	Despite investment in extending and refurbishing the library there is little interest form SLT. They want the library open from 8.30am until 4.30pm and and is not to be closed at all regardless of who it is that may have to cover in my absence except for when they wish to use it for something and then they are more than happy to deprive the students of using the facilities. There is little support for me (as can probably be gathered from comments about who runs the library.) I enjoy working with the students but get frustrated at the lack of support.	Apr 30, 2012 1:21 AM
122	Use of e-readers and e-books etc is now requiring a new set of skills when dealing with both hardware and software	Apr 30, 2012 1:20 AM
123	I don't have any formal lesson time and it is a constant battle to persuade staff to let me have time. I am dually qualified.	Apr 30, 2012 1:19 AM
124	Since January 2012 a Classroom Assistant has been appointed to the Library during lunchbreaks so that additional pupils can gain access to our facilities - the cap on pupil numbers has been raised from 30 to around 40-45	Apr 30, 2012 1:19 AM
125	I suspect almost every school librarian across the country also does all of the above and more. I am a lone worker, so do what I can! I am also the Pastoral Assistant for Yr7, so we see loads of yr7s in the LRC - some needing to talk to me about issues.	Apr 30, 2012 1:12 AM
126	What I can do varies with the timetable eg most years I can do all of the above, this year I had to drop info skills and concentrate on new reading programmes	Apr 30, 2012 1:08 AM
127	I was made redundant from my previous post as sole librarian in a similar school, after 9 years, so was fortunate to get this post.	Apr 30, 2012 1:07 AM
128	Library is also used as a classroom becasue of lack of teaching rooms available. A new building in September 2012 should mean lessons are removed from the Library.	Apr 30, 2012 1:00 AM
129	The LRC is the core of the school which on only supports the pupils in their school work but socially.	Apr 30, 2012 12:59 AM
130	With students taking GCSEs earlier and earlier any time previously allocated to visit the library is disappearing. We shadow the local teen fiction award the celebration day for the award does not fall in one of our school activity weeks so we are unable to take our students the impact of this is students can not see the point in doing all the reading if they are not allowed to go to the celebration.	Apr 30, 2012 12:54 AM
131	A lot of work is done with the EPQ and I am also a supervisor for Level 2 & Level 3 EPQ.	Apr 30, 2012 12:51 AM
132	purchase books out of my own money to meet demand rely on donations to a great extent	Apr 30, 2012 12:48 AM
133	Generally feel that the Leadership Group would like to get rid of the library and use the space for something else. Reading is not encouraged at all, particularly reading for pleasure - as long as we do well in Ofsted nothing else matters.	Apr 30, 2012 12:24 AM
134	Non-library related lessons take place in the Library 3-4 hours every day	Apr 30, 2012 12:15 AM

135	We have a very good advocate in our Headteacher who embraces traditional library values and systems, but who also encourages new forms of media e.g Kindles and we are currently in negotiations for an E Book platform in order to keep the library current and accessible by all students and staff	Apr 30, 2012 12:07 AM
136	As from September 2012 our LRC is being divided into two areas. This will mean that I will have approximately 50% less floor space, 50% administrative office area, reduced number of books and resources and also the number of students that we will be able to accommodate before school, during break and lunch will be reduced from approximately 80 down to 35. I have expressed my concerns and have been told that 'needs must'.	Apr 29, 2012 12:21 PM
137	Re budget - while our budget just about covers newspapers and necessary stationery items and leaves very little for book purchasing, we do, in addition and thankfully, have a subscription to the local SLS without whom we could not function	Apr 29, 2012 11:02 AM
138	My library is a vibrant and active place, well used before registration and at lunchtimes, as well as during class times. As Librarian, I feel I am valued by the staff I work with and the Management Team (although it doesn't necessarily always feel like it). Despite the stresses of the current situation in education with the change to Curriculum for Excellence and the 'interesting' management style we have, deep down (and even after 20yrs in same post) I love the job.	Apr 29, 2012 10:44 AM
139	I used to undertake all the above, but now the library is used as a teaching space so am unable to do any lessons myself, other than informal reading groups at lunchtimes.	Apr 29, 2012 10:15 AM
140	I wished to take Information Literacy and Library skills lessons but was consistently refused - the school think only teachers have the ability to teach. I am leaving the school at the end of July and will be replaced by someone at TA level as I was told that they 'no longer saw any value in employing a professional'. ie. I cost too much. My salary was reduced in January (albeit protected) and reduced further to TTO in line with this statement They certainly don't intend to replace me with anyone who they need to pay for. Very sad.	Apr 29, 2012 9:44 AM
141	I am recognised as a valued member of staff and encouraged by the head on to strategy groups etc	Apr 29, 2012 8:34 AM
142	Many other activities take place in the library which is easily the biggest space in the school. The shelves are on wheels and the space is made available for speech day, concerts, professional development events etc. We have had a bouncy castle, a life size (baby) Tyrannosaurus Rex, wheelchair racing, as well as Careers events. This is fine with me as the impact on library use is minimal and students and staff in school 'own' the space.	Apr 29, 2012 2:42 AM
143	Qualified librarians should not have such a downer on the unqualified, who can be just as effective in the same role	Apr 29, 2012 2:01 AM
144	Library used as a computer room. I spend a lot of time dealing with ICT issues and treated as if I a Reception, stationary supplier. Difficult to work with departments including the English Department. Have shelves & shelves of non-fiction rarely used. What to do? !	Apr 28, 2012 11:38 PM
145	Just had Ofsted inspection and as usual they did not visit the library. No mention of library to support literacy or reading for pleasure. WHY NOT?!	Apr 28, 2012 12:28 PM
